STATE ASSOCIATIONS AND SIMILAR ORGANIZATIONS (2016)

Section 1.

Resolution for States, State Associations and Similar Organizations

We, the NACURH Board of Directors of the National Association of College and University Residence Halls, Incorporated, hereby commit to fostering the success of our regional affiliates and recognize that many state level associations, groups and organizations exist to support the same or similar goals, missions and values of residential student leaders.

NACURH has a need to formalize our stance on state level participation, state organizations and similar. NACURH recognizes the value in these organizations and having students participate in them. In recognizing that NACURH and state associations or similar are both trying to accomplish similar goals, let it be known that NACURH Inc. does not affiliate itself with state associations. NACURH does, however, recognize that the state associations or similar are offering an additional experience to NACURH, but NACURH and our Affiliates will not fund, participate, coordinate, recognize, set aside time for state business, or conduct business with state level associations, groups and organizations or similar.

NACURH provides services and benefits to those who are members institutions or those who hold Corporate Partner or Sponsor agreements and shall not provide those services and benefits to state level associations, groups and organizations or similar. NACURH shares the ideals of forwarding student and leadership development and striving toward a common goal of improving the life of residential students with state level associations, groups and organizations or similar and values all opportunities for student leadership and giving our member institutions an equal opportunity for their voices to be heard across all of NACURH.

IDENTITY FIRST LANGUAGE (2021)

Identity-First Language

We, the NACURH Board of Directors of the National Association of College and University Residence Halls, Incorporated, hereby commit to utilizing identity first language (IFL) when referring to the Disabled community in written documents. Identity first language is considered by the Disabled community as inclusive language through a social justice and equity perspective and aligns with the values of NACURH.

NACURH does not intend to direct Disabled people on the language they should use and identify with, rather we will use IFL as the default language in NACURH spaces. We recognize that this will be a continual educational effort throughout the years that may need to be adapted later as we continue our efforts and initiatives around accessibility. We recognize the previous emphasis placed on person first language (e.g. person with a disability, person with autism), however, research from The Association on Higher Education and Disability informs this stance and takes into consideration the voices of the Disabled community and their preferred terminology (e.g. disabled, autistic, blind person).
